Publication of the Proceedings

The proceedings will be published in book format, with their corresponding titles; the edition will have a double ISBN (electronic and paper), and will be published at the same time, simultaneously.

Given the format of the publication, in the form of a research essay, not proceedings, the table of contents will be structured on the basis of book chapters.

Although published in book format, each publication will include a Scientific Committee, which will be reproduced in the publication of the papers.

The deadline for delivery of the originals for publication will be 1 March 2027.

Editing standards

1. Texts must be accompanied by an abstract in English. Abstracts should be no longer than 300 words. Six key words will also be included.

2. The originals must be submitted on computer support, written with the word processor Word.

3. The maximum length of the papers is 30,000 words including footnotes and bibliography, illustrations apart (up to a maximum of 20 illustrations -drawings, photographs, plans, maps, tables, graphs-). The images must be submitted digitised in TIFF or JPG format (minimum resolution of 300 pixels) and each of them with its graphic scale, if possible.

4. A separate document with the captions of the figures must be attached. If figures are taken from other publications, the source should be cited. All illustrations, including graphs and tables, should be numbered consecutively as figures and their reference should be cited in the text (e.g. Fig. 1).

5. The correct use of the © of each of the illustrations is the responsibility of the authors, although, in the case of researchers of the Spanish Institute of Egyptology and Coptology, they should notify, if applicable, if they wish the centre to acquire the copyright for the publication. In this sense, the institution must be notified, via the e-mail address ieec-administracionyproyectos@instituto-espanol-de-egiptologia-y-coptologia-ieec.com, within a maximum period of one month from the receipt of this e-mail.

6. The title should be in Times New Roman, size 14, capital letters, bold and centred, with the author's name (in lower case, size 12, not bold and centred), with his/her academic or research accreditation, public or private.

7. The maximum length of the papers is 30,000 words including footnotes and bibliography, illustrations apart (up to a maximum of 20 illustrations -drawings, photographs, plans, maps, tables, graphs-). The images must be submitted digitised in TIFF or JPG format (minimum resolution of 300 pixels) and each of them with its graphic scale, if possible.

8. A separate document with the captions of the figures must be attached. If figures are taken from other publications, the source should be cited. All illustrations, including graphs and tables, should be numbered consecutively as figures and their reference should be cited in the text (e.g. Fig. 1).

9. The correct use of the © of each of the illustrations is the responsibility of the authors, although, in the case of researchers of the Spanish Institute of Egyptology and Coptology, they should notify, if applicable, if they wish the centre to acquire the copyright for the publication. In this sense, the institution must be notified, via the e-mail address ieec-administracionyproyectos@instituto-espanol-de-egiptologia-y-coptologia-ieec.com, within a maximum period of one month from the receipt of this e-mail.

10. The title should be in Times New Roman, size 14, capital letters, bold and centred, with the author's name (in lower case, size 12, not bold and centred), with his/her academic or research accreditation, public or private.

11. Numbering of headings. The text must have enough headings to structure its content in the different parts. The headings should be numbered in the following order: 1°) Arabic numerals, capital letters and bold [1. CAPITALS AND BOLD]; 2°) Arabic numerals, lower case and bold [1.1. lower case and bold]; 3°) Arabic numerals, lower case and italics [1.1.1. lower case and italics]. No other type is permitted.

12. Numbering of headings. The text must have enough headings to structure its content in the different parts. The headings should be numbered in the following order: 1°) Arabic numerals, capital letters and bold [1. CAPITALS AND BOLD]; 2°) Arabic numerals, lower case and bold [1.1. lower case and bold]; 3°) Arabic numerals, lower case and italics [1.1.1. lower case and italics]. No other type is permitted.

13. Numbering of headings. The text must have enough headings to structure its content in the different parts. The headings should be numbered in the following order: 1°) Arabic numerals, capital letters and bold [1. CAPITALS AND BOLD]; 2°) Arabic numerals, lower case and bold [1.1. lower case and bold]; 3°) Arabic numerals, lower case and italics [1.1.1. lower case and italics]. No other type is permitted.

14. Footnotes. Footnotes should be kept to a minimum and are intended to clarify something that is not sufficiently explained in the text; they should not be used for bibliographical citations. They should be placed at the foot of the page and numbered consecutively in Arabic numerals. They should be written in Times New Roman, size 10.

15. Bibliographical citations should be made in the following way: the author's name should be written in lower case, followed by the year of publication of the work, page or pages and figure or figures. These citations will appear inside the text of the article and will not appear at the foot of the page or at the end.

A - The summary citation is entered in parentheses with the author's surname(s), followed by the year of publication. Exemples: (López Flores, 2010) (Keay et al., 2006) (Almagro-Gorbea, 1977; Rovira, 1991; Maya, 1998; Ruiz Zapatero, 2001; López Cachero, 2005; Neumaier, 2006) (Graells, 2008a; 2008b; 2008c).

B - When the quotation is also literal, the page number or specific location of the phrase/s in the original text is included.

Examples:

- ...this treatment appears in the Iron Urn Fields (6th-5th c. BC) of the Catalan Coastal Group (Ruiz Zapatero, 1985: 739-740).
- In spite of this, some years ago Sanz Gamo (1997: 85) drew attention to the place...

C - Regarding the citation in the text of a work with two authors: both authors are always cited whenever the reference occurs in the text joined by 'and' or 'C'. When more than two authors are cited for a work, see the references section. Examples:

(Gómez de Soto and Milcent, 2000; Graells, 2011b; 2014)
(Soria and Mata, 2003) (Manunza et al., 2005).

16. The bibliographic list will appear at the end of the article, arranged in alphabetical order of the authors' first surnames. If the same author has several works, the order will be by date of publication, from the oldest to the most recent. If two works by the same author coincide in the same year, they will be distinguished by lower case letters (a, b, c, etc.), which will also be included in the references mentioned in section 8. The bibliography will respect the following structure:

A - Book: Surname(s), First name initial(s) (Year of publication). Title of the book. Place of publication: Publisher.

Example: Sanz Gamo, R. (1997). Cultura ibérica y romanización en tierras de Albacete: los siglos de transición en Albacete. Albacete: Instituto de Estudios Albacetenses.

B - Book chapter: Surname(s), First name initial(s) (Year). Title of chapter, entry or contribution. In Initial of the first name(s). Surname(s) of the editor(s) or coordinator(s) or.... (abbreviated title), Title of book (pp. xx-xx). Place of publication: Publisher.

Example: Delgado Hervás, A. (2011). Phoenician pottery production in the far west: pottery kilns, workshops and domestic industries in the colonial enclaves of Mediterranean Andalusia (8th-6th centuries BC). In Costa Ribas and J. H. Fernández Gómez (Eds.), YÕSERIM: Phoenician-Punic pottery production in the West. XXV Jornadas de Arqueología fenicio- púnica (Ibiza, 2010) (pp.165-221). Ibiza: Museu Arqueològic d'Eivissa i Formentera.

C - Journal article: Surname(s), First name initial(s) (Year). Title of the article. Title of the publication, volume (number), xx-xx.

In the case of abbreviated journal titles, the journal abbreviation system should be used.

Example: Brogiolo, G.P. (2015). Flooding in Northern Italy during the Early Middle Ages: resilience and adaptation. PCA, vol. 5, pp. 325-350. (PCA: Post-Classical Archaeologies).

D - Publications on the Internet and web pages:

Example: Pérez Ballester, J. (2014). Between the Late Bronze Age and the Ancient Iron Age. The hand-made ceramics of La Solana del Castell (Xàtiva, València). Lucentum, nº 33, pp. 23-39, <http://hdl.handle.net/10045/42301>, (Accessed: 21-10-2016).

D -Publications on the Internet and web pages:

Example: Pérez Ballester, J. (2014). Between the Late Bronze Age and the Ancient Iron Age. The hand-made ceramics of La Solana del Castell (Xàtiva, València). Lucentum, nº 33, pp. 23-39, <http://hdl.handle.net/10045/42301>, (Accessed: 21-10-2016).

17. Quotations from Classical Authors.

If the quotation is made within a context, the author and his work will be quoted in full. The title of the work should be in italics. For example: "as Virgil says in his Aeneid...".

The following abbreviations should be used for specific quotations:

Index of the Greek-Spanish Dictionary (DGE) of the CSIC for Greek authors: http://dge.cchs.csic.es/lst/lst4.htm

Index of the Thesaurus Linguae Latinae (TLL) for Roman authors: https://thesaurus.badw.de/en/tll-digital/index.html

In these citations, a period should be used between the book and chapter, verse or paragraph numbers. The abbreviation of the title of the works will be in italics.

Examples: Verg. Aen. 7.148; App. BC. 2.34.

18. Papyrus citation.

For citation and editing of papyri, please consult the website of the International Association of Papyrologists.

https://aip.ulb.be//index.html

https://aip.ulb.be//PDF/Guidelines_for_editing_papyri.pdf